

George S. Harleman

George Sylvester Harleman, the son of George and Minnie Schaa Harleman, was born Oct. 24, 1926, in Harris, Iowa. His childhood years were spent in Harris, where he received his education, graduating from Harris High School. Following his schooling, he entered the military and served with the U.S. Navy during WW II from 1945, until his honorable discharge in 1946.

After returning to Spencer, Iowa, George married Regina Henkel on October 28, 1948, in Spencer. Following their marriage, they continued to live in Spencer, where George worked for Webster Plumbing and Heating as a technician for 39 years, until he retired in 1988.